

Health Sites on the Web I Pretest

Name _____

For each description, draw a line to a Web site or place it describes.

Description

1. This Web site has information about Rochester area health organizations and support groups.
2. This Web site has a medical encyclopedia, dictionary, and information about 700 health topics, and 9,000 medications.
3. This place provides health information by phone and by mail.
4. This Web site has information about doctors who practice in New York State.

Web site or Place

- a. Stabins Wellness Information Center
- b. CLIC on Health
- c. New York Doctor Profile
- d. MedlinePlus

Health Sites on the Web II Pretest

Name _____

For each question, draw a line to a Web site or Place that will have the answer. You will need to use the same Web site or Place more than once.

Question

1. Where can I find information about 4,000 health topics?
2. Where can I find a medical dictionary?
3. Where can I find information about medications? (2 answers)
4. Where can I check for interactions between medications?

Web site or Place

- a. MedlinePlus
- b. Drug Digest

Computer Basics Pre-test

Name _____

1. These are pictures of types of cursors. Draw a line from the cursor to what it means.

Point or arrow

Web link

Typing or word processing

Resizing

Busy or wait

2. These three buttons are at the top right corner of every window. Draw a line from each of these three buttons to the word that describes what the button does.

Minimize

Close

Resize

Internet Basics Post-test

Name _____

1. Which of these is a Webpage address? Check as many as apply.

- smithj@hotmail.com
- <http://www.cliconhealth.org>
- www.medlineplus.gov

2. How can you return to a webpage that you visited before? Check as many as apply.

- Click on the Back button
- Click on the Stop button
- Type in the Web address for the page in the Address bar.

3. How can you find Web pages about a particular topic if you don't have a Web address for the page?
Check as many as apply.

- Click on the Back button
- Click on the Stop button
- Use a search engine